William H. Proctor Avails of Option Offered Him.

WILL DELIVER FUNDS MONDAY.

Henry R. Brown, Webster C. Mitchell, John Knowlton, Clarke C. Fitts and J. S. Martin to Associate with Mr.

Proctor Who Holds Control.

What portends to be the opening of the closing chapter in the controversy between William H. Proctor and the Hooker, Corser, Mitchell company is announced today in an agreement reached between Mr. to report at the foot of the mountain william H. Proctor and the Hooker, Corser, Mitchell company is announced today in an agreement reached between Mr. Proctor and the company yesterday afternoon. Just what constitutes the internals of the agreement will remain a secret for some time unless the principals in the deal see fit to acquaint the public with the situation. It is known, however, from one of the parties in the new organization of forces that William H. Proctor and his associates decided yesterday that Mr. Proctor would avail of the option he had to either sell his holdings in the company or acquire the stock of the present stockholders. Mr. Proctor decided that he would buy and while the price he' agrees to pay for the holdings of the majority stockholders is not made public in an official statement as promised, the fact that a check for $60,000 will be delivered to the Hooker, Corser, Mitchell company, will have as his associates Henry R. Brown, Webster C. Mitchell, John Knowlton, Clarke C. Fitts and J. L. Martin, Mr. Knowlton recently selling out his business in Lowell, Mass., to become a partner in the new management of the overall industry in this town. Mr. Brown will sell his livery business at Northampton the coming week and for the present will continue to operate his livery business in this place. Whether he will devote himself to an active part in tenew company is yet to be decided.

The Hooker, Corser, Since A. have a $15,000 check in escrow in Schenected to be applied upon the purchase price of the site decided upon for the new factory in that city. As Mr. Proctor's holdings of $30,000 in the stock of the Hooker, Corser, Mitchell company gave him an interest in this bit of negotiable paper it is understood that the check will return to Brattleboro to become a part of the assets of the Hooker, Corser, Mitchell company in the settlement which is expected to take place Monday.

The fine ral services were held from Mr. Stevenson's late home at 2.30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rev. R. K. Marvin of Franklin, Mass., formerly pastor of the officials.

takes up the reins.

Injunction Dissolved.

The Dunlevy-Fenton case will go to trial in Windham county court on Tuesday.

June 22. On Thursday a decree from Judge Stanton was filed with the clerk of Windham county dissolving the injunction secured by the defendant. While the case may not be the first called upon the opening of court on the 22nd the counsel engaged on both sides are confident that it will be taken up early during the first week of court. It was expected that court would re-open on the 15th but Judge Butler has been detained at Middlebury and cannot reach Newfane before June 22.

Chaplain Hale Dead. Rev. Edward Everett Hale, 87, chaplain Rev. Edward Everett Hale, 87, chaplain of the United States senate, Unitarian minister, philanthropist, author, journalist and lover of peace, died at 3 o'clock yesterday morning in his home in Roxbury, Mass. At the bedside were his aged wife, his daughter, Miss Ellen D. Hale, and his son, Philip L. Hale, the artist.

On his return from Washington a few weeks ago it was recorted that Dr. Hale. On his return from Washington a few weeks ago it was reported that Dr. Hale was not in good health, but he soon regained his activities, and until Tuesday attended meetings and received friends. Wednesday night, however, he showed signs of distress, and, rapidly weakening, passed peacefully away in the early hours of the morning. It seemed yesterday as if the whole country joined in mourning the loss of Dr. Hale. Messages expressing sorrow and esteem poured into the Hale household, one of the first being from President and Mrs. Taft.

A Ghastly Find.

The dismembered body of a man, with the head missing, was found in New York by the police last night, neatly done up in two bundles of brown paper and black oiled cloth. The bundles had been left in the charge of a small boy by a stranger, who had promised him five cents to watch them till he came back. The officers attention was attracted by the sniffing and snarling of a small Chinese terrier. The bundles were taken to the nearest stationbundles were taken to the nearest station-house. On the wrappers was written in letters of red, three inches high, "Black Hand." There were four stab wounds in the chest of the body, two of which would have been immediately fatal.

At the final graduation exercises at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, among the 175 midshipmen cadets who were graduated were Gerard Bradford, appointed from Burlington, June 16, 1905, at the age of 17 years. He stood 24th in his class and has had nearly 10 months' sea service. No other Vermonter was graduated.

Hiram F. Stevenson who in company with J. Foster Stearns made a trip to Mount Wantastiquet on Sunday in search of woodland flowers became separated from his companion late in the afternoon. Searching parties found him dead at 5 o'clock Monday morning. Death was doubtless due to exhaustion as Mr. Stevenson was 83 years of age.

Satisfying himself that Mr. Stevenson was lost Mr. Stearns, who is 80 years of age endeavored to locate his friend and failing to do so returned to his home in this village, reaching home about 9 o'clock and made known the fact that the aged shoemaker was evidently lost.

The scheme requires the doubling of routes, scheme requires the doubling of routes, and a re-arrangement in a way that two or more routes can be easily combined and served by one carrier. This would allow a number of carriers leave without detriment to the service or overwork on the part of the carriers. By the present rule, it costs the government about a million and a half dollars yearly, for the whole country, to employ substitutes for the fifteen days' vacation of the regular carriers. The department would like to give the carriers the full thirty days' leave, generally enjoyed by those in government service, but to do so, under present arrangements, would increase the cost to about three million dollars.
